

University of Jordan
Faculty of Engineering and Technology
Department of Architecture
Course Structure

Course Title: Conservation of Architectural Heritage
Course No. (0932723 )

Credit hour: (3) Two credit hours

Course Description:

Research in understanding the philosophy of Preservation of historical heritage and specifying the main trends in the development of architectural structure, and the space ties for cities of historical roots.

Course Objectives:

1. To develop firm basic understanding of the principles of preservation.
2. To be fully aware of the differences in Repair options.
3. To be able to handle with confidence complete design of structural rehabilitation.

Text Book:

HISTORIC PRESERVATION , J.A. Fitch .
CONSERVATION OF HISTORIC BUILDING , B.M. Feeilden, 1995

References:

- RENOVATION OLD HOUSES, G. Nash , 1992
- ARCHITECTURE IN WEST EUROPE CONTROVERSARY AND CONTINUITY , W. Denslagen.

Assignments and Term Projects:

Reports dealing with theoretical topics covering research and redesign application.

Computer Usage:

Laboratory Works and Site Visits:

Site visits to selected historical sites.

Course Evaluation and Examinations Dates:

Reports (30%), Two Mid-term exams (30% each), Final exam (40%)

Course Instructor:

Dr. Jawdat Goussous

j\_goussous@ju.edu.jo